"Although I love flowers, I'd rather you spread joy in memory of me. Practice random acts of kindness often, let the person with fewer items ahead of you in line, pay for the car behind you, buy a stranger flowers just because, or buy a stranger a meal."

"As Fisk Fireworks were a large part of my life, please donate to Fisk Fireworks. I also request people wear bright colors instead of black. I am a happy person and black isn't very happy. Plus, we are celebrating my life, black just isn't going to work."
